

PILOTS LOSS OF LICENSE DISABILITY PLAN

If your income gets grounded due to loss of license, we've got you covered.

PROTECTION FOR PILOTS

If you're prohibited from flying because of a medical illness or accidental injury, the likely loss of income can put enormous pressure on you and your loved ones. Serious medical conditions or accidental injury, combined with strict health criteria for pilots, may permanently prevent you from ever flying again. This adds to the difficulty of paying your mortgage, your children's education costs, living expenses and other financial responsibilities.

FINANCIAL SECURITY WHILE YOU'RE NOT FLYING

Continue to meet your financial commitments, if your license is suspended for medical illness or accidental injury, with monthly benefits from our Pilots Loss of License Disability plan. If the worst happens, and you lose your license permanently, a lump sum payment will give you security when you need it.

FEATURES AND BENEFITS:

- Coverage available from U.S. $200,000 up to $1 million lump sum payable for permanent loss of license on medical grounds
- After a 90 day waiting period, 1% of the lump sum amount chosen will be paid on a monthly basis due to loss of license – for up to 12 months
- Full benefits to age 60 – a temporary total disability claim arising at age 59, for example, would run to age 60
- Lump sum benefit paid out when there is little prospect of an improvement in condition
- Benefits paid for accident or illness up to age 59. Age 60 to 65, benefits paid for accidental injury only.
- Sold up to age 60. Renewable up to age 65.

Benefits Payable

Benefits are payable if an accident or illness occurs at work or outside of work and regardless of your ability to carry out any other occupation in aviation or other field.
